

TALES FROM SUBURBIA

celebrates Devonport's built environs through the lens of the Robinson Photographic Collection – images taken between 1927 and 1975.

The exhibition extends beyond the Gallery inviting you to walk through Devonport's inner suburbs to view selected Robinson photos against the buildings as they are today.

This tour uncovers buildings little changed by time, and others that have seemingly just surfaced. It celebrates the past and the present, the commonplace and the unique, and hopefully tells tales of suburbia once forgotten and now retold.

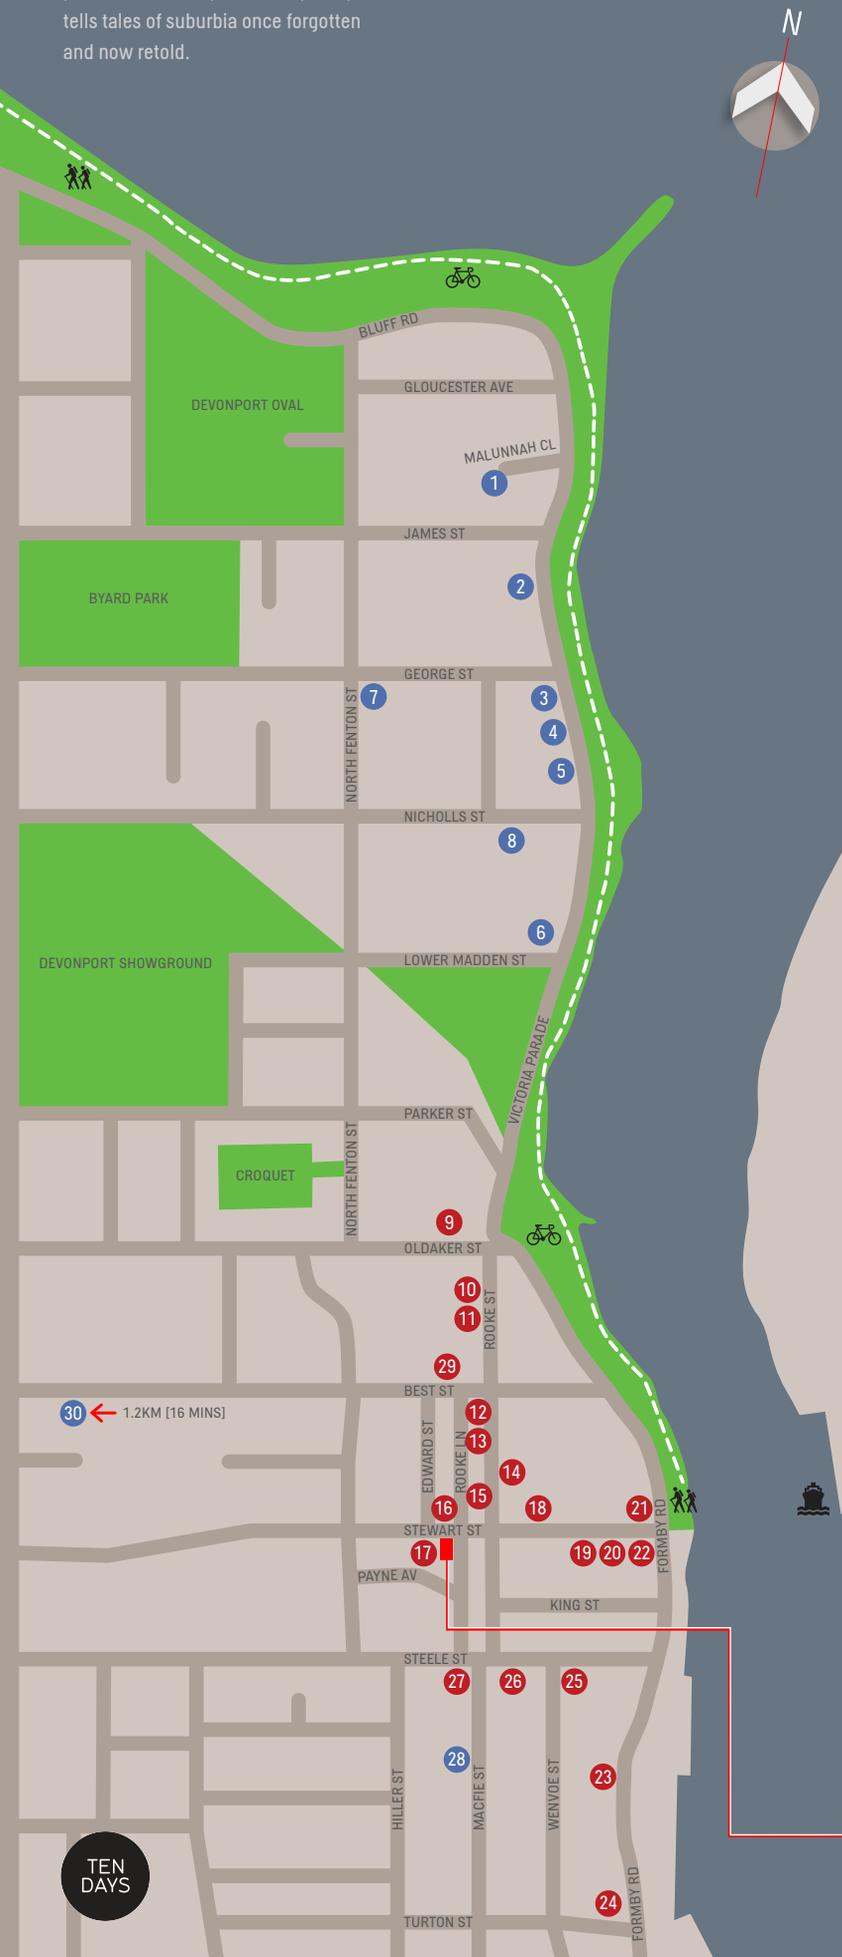

As you partake in this walking tour please respect the privacy of the owners who have so generously 'lent' their front yards and front windows.

If you have any questions about any of these properties or any tales to share please contact the Devonport Regional Gallery, or the curator at: talesfromsuburbia@alisonsavage.com.au
